

Objectives

This Lecture will help you to learn linear differential equations with constant co-efficients.

You will be learning the general form of linear homogeneous equations with constant co-efficients.

Method to obtain the solution of the linear differentialequation is explained.

Types of solutions for linear homogeneous differential equations with constant co-efficients will also be discussed.