

Summary

The lecture covers the Circi of ancient Rome. The architecture of the same has been discussed in detail with example. Also covered in the lecture is the palaces and dwellings of ancient Rome, their planning principles and architecture. The Roman fountains and their importance is discussed. The orders of architecture is discussed with a major stress on the two classical Roman orders, Tuscan and Composite with examples.