

Objectives

To learn about

- to Understand that architecture are analogues to an organism and has all the relative components within it.
- to Understand the significance of each aspect of architecture like form, structure, skin etc and to know the interrelation between them.