

SUMMARY

This session learnt about the concept of centre of gravity and centroid is explained. Information regarding the axes of reference for locating centre of gravity of plane figures are given. Also the method of calculating moment of inertia of areas by integration is discussed. This lecture will form a prerequisite for understanding the concept of calculating moment of inertia of plane figures.