

Summary

In this lecture the students will be able to understand the various types of protective coatings and which paint to use on what kind of surface. Students will also have a fair idea of Primers, Vanishes and enamels and the difference between each, and how to paint different surfaces. The various defects in painting and how they are caused is also explained so that students can know how to avoid them.