

Objectives

- to introduce to students what is timber, how is it sourced from wood, and what are the different types of wood/trees and which ones are used to source timber
- To teach students the properties, uses, characteristics of Timber
- to educate students on the process of how wood becomes timber; which includes the ways to fell and transport trees, the different types of conversion and seasoning of timber