

Summary

The lecture covers the birth and establishment of Gothic Architecture, giving an understanding of various socio-cultural influences that led to the spreading of same in the society. Cathedral planning with planning concepts in England and France are discussed. The late medieval period and its architecture are covered and the architecture of Salisbury Cathedral and Westminster abbey is discussed.