

Summary

The lecture discusses the renaissance architecture and the various influences that led to the renaissance architecture. Introduction of Humanism and the importance if the same in the said time period. Understanding the influence of renaissance in Italy with examples of the works of great renaissance architects like Brunelleschi and Alberti. Major works of the said architects and features is also discussed.