

Assignment

- Study of immediate environment in the terms of various Paints that have been used on the surface. Literature case study of famous work of architecture that characteristic special use of paints.
- Listing of various tones of paints that could help heal or affect particular moods of user.
- Live study of vernacular architecture with respect to the medium of paint and addressing of the various surface in the local area.