

Summary

This session would try to explain the importance of forest resources and the way in which human beings are over exploiting them. It will further delve into the concept of deforestation, one of the current maladies that affect us.