

Summary

This session would try to explain the environmental effects of extracting and mining. It will further delve into the use and conservation of mineral resources. It will go on to analyze the importance of food resources, the changes occurring in the field of agriculture and food crisis occurring across the world.