

Objectives

- The use of steel in modern day structures and architecture
- The possibility of architecture expression in form of building material in terms of steel
- A brief look at structural steel , and its advantages
- A brief look at steel sheeting and its types
- An understanding of Stainless Steel and its application in building industry