

Objectives

- To promote understanding of various non ferrous metals and their benefits and applications
- A brief look at some immediate aluminium applications in architecture through case studies
- Understand the benefits and history of aluminium and its evolution
- A brief look at copper as an architecture building materials and its benefits in being used.
- A brief look at the benefits of Zinc as a building material