

Objectives

- Understand polymerization and plastics and their various properties
- A brief look plastics as the modern building material
- A brief look at plastic forming process
- A brief look at elastomers
- An understand of decorative laminates , their properties and the role they play in present day interior design
- A look at how decorative laminates are used in building industry and their characteristics