

Objectives

To study water supply, treatments, distribution and plumbing system for all types of buildings. To create an awareness of the principles and best practices for water management in residential units, small campus and for a large city.