

Summary

This session would lend you information on Erich Mendelsohn, one of the greatest proponents of Expressionist architecture. He was one of the few architects who have been trying expressionism in architecture. We will understand that the style of Erich Mendelsohn would remarkably mark the style of the early 20th century architecture in Europe.