

Summary

This session would lend you an overall insight on how cities were built or developed during industrial revolution. This will help in understanding the rise of the cities during the Industrial Revolution. This would give the insight of which the cities belong to i.e., the people who lived the city and who governed the city during industrial revolution.