

Summary

This lecture looks at the power handling equipment like switchboard, panel boards and lighting conductors. The various materials used in earthing arrangements, its fixing methods and the purpose of installing earthing in building are discussed in detail. The other part of electronic systems covered in this lecture are the electronic communication systems and the types like data and voice communication system.