

Summary

This lecture helps by giving the principles of lighting and nature of vision for better understanding. Major factors that affect the lighting design are explained more elaborately. Various types of electric light sources have also been described in detail.