

Summary

This lecture is about central plants for air conditioning systems, their various types and their working principle. The configuration or sizing of mechanical equipment, equipment spaces and sizes is explained elaborately.