

GLOSSARY

Space:

Physical space is often conceived in three linear dimensions. Of all the component elements that together form a completed interior, the single most important element is space.

Materials and finishes:

Interior Design Materials and finishes are those things that make up the finished design of a project.