

SUMMARY

In this session we learn about the physical components of interior design. The session will also contain a detailed study on types of doors and windows and their properties. Further, the study includes the philology of colors in interior space.