

FAQ's

1. Relevance of light in Interior Design?

Lighting is the most overlooked and yet important element of a good interior design. Lighting is essential in terms of creating the mood and ambience of living space.

2. Parameters used in selecting the right light fixtures?

The parameters for selecting right light fixtures are

- Lighting level
- Brightness, contrast and glare
- Contrast and diffusion
- Economic issues

3. What is color temperature?

The color temperature of a light source is a numerical measurement of its color appearance. It is based on the principle that any object will emit light if it is heated to a high enough temperature and the color of that light will shift in a predictable manner as the temperature is increased.

4. Explain interior lighting needs?

- Set a desired mood or atmosphere.
- Direct or concentrate attention.
- Control shading and shadow to aid the viewer in seeing form and texture.
- Emphasize or modify spatial perception.