

GLOSSARY

Building typology:

Building typology refers to the study and documentation of a set of buildings which have similarities in their form.

Interior landscaping:

The process by which indoor environments that contains plains, angles and horizons that are softened, accentuated or altered by the addition of plants and water features.