

SUMMARY

In this session we learn about the Structural expression. Function. Architect's vim. These are always prone to get into trouble. An architect can be successful only if he / she can solve this disparity. This session will hopefully try and explain why they are important. From form continuum to conceptual engineering, this session creates the final summary of all those episodes that you've had so far.