

Assignment

1. Revisiting the rural study from previous semesters – having a good understanding of VA can be further improved when one can apply the study to the rural studies undertaken.
2. A simple case study of one's ancestral history to understand what the past generation of one has been through to create their environment.
3. To research a create a list of VA methods from one's region which are being incorporated in present day architecture or a list that can be used in present day context.