

Summary

With this lecture, we learnt about the seismic design and detailing of Non-Engineered constructions like wooden and earthen structures. We learnt about the various damages in wooden structures, typical characteristics of wood and typical design solutions. Also we learnt about the different characteristics of earthen structures, damages on the same and design solutions.