SUMMARY

This presentation explains how the critical path is found and the project duration is calculated with an understanding of float and slack.