

SUMMARY

This episode deals with the concept of Environment and helps understand the definition & concepts of Built & Natural Environment, through illustrations. Also, it explains about various elements that constitutes Natural & Built Environment.

The lecture defines a "Structure", different types of structure and their components, with illustrations. The concept of Superstructure and Substructure are explained. It also explains function of each component in a structure.

The lecture also explains about Compartmentalisation and Internal Separation and how these concepts shape up a structure.