

SUMMARY

This episode deals with the concept of High rise buildings. It also explains about a typical floor construction cycle for a high rise building.

It also explains about concept of simulation model. It explains how to select an appropriate construction schedule.