

Objectives

The part 2 presentation of the chapter URBAN ASPECTS OF SUSTAINABILITY deals with introduction to urban heat island effect and briefly discusses causes, effects and impacts of urban heat Island. Next part of the presentation is about a case example of sustainable community - BO01, VÄSTRA HAMNEN MALMÖ, SWEDEN - referred as "An internationally leading example of environmental adaptation of a densely built urban area." in which from master planning to various levels of design details are covered briefly.