

Objectives

The lecture continues with the discussion about different eco- friendly material with recyclable assessment, merits of green building construction along with environmental consideration; in which different level of sustainable consideration such as operational & embodied carbon di-oxide, water, waste management, biodiversity, transport and importance of life-cycle assessment with a case example.