

GLOSSARY

Analysis:

- The interpretation of research and investigation results to improve understanding of cultural heritage places
- Examining an object, action, material, or concept in detail by separating it into its fundamental elements or component parts.

Archaeological Excavations:

For the purpose of the present Recommendation, by archaeological excavations is meant any research aimed at the discovery of objects of archaeological character, whether such research involves digging of the ground or systematic exploration of its surface or is carried out on the bed or in the sub-soil of inland or territorial waters of a Member State.

Assessment:

The formulation of general results through the correlation and interpretation of existing and newly collected information.