

Summary

This session would lend you information on feasibility studies, detailed studies to develop project options, development proposals till project implementation. Other factors that would be touched upon in the presentation include target population, site development, institutional and financial framework, household characteristics, nature of housing demand, assessing site availability, role of government and identifying project site. It further ends with discussion on selecting site for a project till the implantation and evaluation of the same.