

Objectives

Psychology in physical education aim to develop insight into why people behave as they do. It helps us better understand our thoughts, feelings and behavior.