

Summary

Professional is the one pertaining to a profession. It addresses to an individual engaged in a profession following a career, competing for money, prizes or means of subsistence, as opposed to an amateur. In a simple way professional can be called as "People who carry-out application of their knowledge and technical skills". According to Stainhacis, "A profession is a practice of discipline to the service of mankind," On the other hand, Rakesh Gupta expressed the explanation of profession into the following three fold dimensions such as; specialized expertisation in the field, full time assigned advocacy and source of earning of money in lieu of provided service.