

Objectives

After studying this lecture the students will be able

- to understand the concept and meaning of evaluation.
- to understand the basic purposes and importance of evaluation in any professional program.
- to know the objectives of measurement and evaluation in physical education and sports.
- to understand the criteria for test selection or evaluation techniques selection in the field of physical education
- to understand the roles and importance of computer application in measurement and evaluation.