

Objectives

On completion of this chapter, one should be able to:

- express the concept of strength
- explain the types of strength
- described the factors determining strength
- show the effective management strength training programme.