

Objectives

On completion of the topic, one should be able to understand:

- the five Components of health related fitness and its secondary components
- the scope of the fitness trainer and their different kind of work
- the different roles , names of the trainer and their employment opportunities