

SUMMARY

The game of cricket requires a variety of skills which are also used commonly in other sports. Some of the fundamental skills required are hand-eye coordination, throwing or catching a ball, balance and intense and long-term concentration to name a few. All these skills are required in order to make a drastic improvement in the game of cricket.