Objectives

This unit introduces the subject matter of Statistics, different types of data and its collection. After reading this unit we will able to:

a. define Statistics

b. scope, importance and limitations of Statistics

c. know classification of data

d. know different methods of collection of data