

OBJECTIVE

- To learn how the relationship between correlated variables can be obtained.
- To use scatter diagram to visualize the relationship between the variables
- To learn least square principle for fitting the data
- To use regression analysis to estimate the value of dependent variable for the given value of independent variable.