

Summary

Adulterated food is impure, unsafe and it is a legal term meaning that a food product fails to meet federal or state standards. If any inferior or cheaper substance has been substituted wholly or some part. Which may result in the loss of actual quality of food item.

These are the some of the common adulterants used in food items for various reasons . In the United States, the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), regulates and enforces laws on food safety and has technical definitions of adulterated food in various United States laws. Some are natural contaminants and they are also dangerous for health. These are simple common test to detect adulterants identification.