

ASSIGNMENT

1. Visit the nearest wine production industries to collect the information on production technology
2. List out the different wine types available in the local market.
3. Make a list of different raw materials used for different types of wine production
4. Make a list of health benefits and effects after consumption of wine.
5. Outline the flow chart for the wine production using grapes.
6. Collect the information on global production statistics of wine.
7. List out any local or traditional wines available in around your place
8. Give an account on advantages of using microbes as inoculants for the wine production.