

OBJECTIVE

- To provide general introduction to fermented dairy products.
- To acquaint the students about the health promoting effects of the fermented dairy products.
- To acquaint the students about the production technologies involved in preparation of different fermented dairy products.