

OBJECTIVE

- To give brief introduction about the bread and its different uses.
- To give brief introduction about the steps involved in bread making.
- To acquaint the students about long fermentation processes used in bread making.
- To acquaint the students about rapid processes used in the processing of bread.
- To acquaint the students about mechanical dough development processes used in bread making