

OBJECTIVE

- To provide introduction about nutritional requirements of microorganisms.
- To acquaint students about different classes of culture media for bacteria.
- To acquaint students about different classes of culture media for yeasts and molds.
- To provide general introduction about historical developments of microbial culture media.
- To acquaint students about various factors influencing the microbial growth.