

ASSIGNMENT

1. Make a list out the common foods which can support the growth of bacteria.
2. Make a list out the common foods which can support the growth of yeast and moulds.
3. List out the bacterial species known to grow on foods.
4. List out the fungal species known to grow on foods.
5. Collect the information on what kind of foods support the growth of viruses.
6. Collect the information on what are the factors that affect the growth of microorganisms.
7. Visit nearest food industries and collect the information about what are the intrinsic factors employed to control the food pathogens.
8. Visit nearest food industries and collect the information about what are the extrinsic factors employed to control the food pathogens.