Objectives

By the end of this session, you will be able to:

• Simulate observations from a given distribution

• Compare the mean and variance of an original distribution with the simulated distribution