Objectives

At the end of this session, you will be able to:

• Fit a regression line of dependent variable on independent variable

• Find the means of the variables using regression lines

• Find coefficient of product moment correlation using regression coefficient

• Estimate the value of dependent variable, when independent variable is given